

Gateway Plaza Celebrates Valentine's Day

Greensboro, NC - Nearly 60 senior residents of Gateway Plaza come together on Valentine's Day to celebrate a day of appreciation and love. Organized by UNCG's social work interns and the community's resident council, the social included food, games, raffles and great fun.

When asked why she thought events like this are important, Josephine Chavis, Gateway Plaza's resident and resident council president, said, "It gives us seniors something to do and keeps us occupied and happy. We love getting together and enjoying each other's

Sharon Davis, also a long-time resident of the community, added, "It brings the community together. I would like to see more events created by residents. We are very creative."

Gateway Plaza is a Greensboro Housing Authority senior, high-rise, public housing community located in downtown Greensboro at 200 Spring Garden Street.
